PATRIOT, SOLDIER AND STATESMAN

A Magnificent Reception Tendered the Chief Magistrate of Ohio at the Fifth Street Rink Last Night—The McKinley Club Escorts the Governor—Handsome Decorations Along the Route of March—The Best of Order in the Rink—Mrs. McKinley Accompanies Her Husband—Old Veterans Pronounce the Speech the Greatest Ever Delivered Here—The Democratic National Administration Roundly Scored for Its Inefficiency and Incompetency—Full Report.

Governor McKinley arrived last night on the 6:10 train, as per program, and was escorted to Colonel John N. Taylor's home by the members of the central Republican committee. Promptly at the hour announced by the NEWS REVIEW yesterday, Manley's band moved out from city hall, making merry music over the route scheduled and halting at the McKinley club headquarters, which were handsomely decorated. Members of the East Liverpool club, the Wellsville McKinley club and some few members of the Salineville club were in line. The escort then moved out Fifth to Washington, Washington to Sixth, out Sixth to Colonel Taylor's residence, marching in column of twos. Arriving at Taylor's, Governor McKinley and the members of the central committee were picked up, and the marching escort, preceding the conveyances, moved out Sixth to Monroe, down Monroe to Fifth, up Fifth to the rink, the governor being cheered to the echo all along the line, while fireworks lighted up the surroundings in nice style. A number of residences and buildings were decorated in a superb manner, prominent among this number being those of W. L. Smith, John J. Purinton, Joseph Bros.' private residence, Taylor's, Audobon club, W. H. Brunt, J. T. King, Phoenix club, First National bank, Columbian club.

The rink was in splendid condition last night, those in charge of affairs having the stoves in full play from early in the morning, and the temperature was about right for comfort. The decorations were in good taste. Back of the speakers' stand was draped in bunting and miniature flags, with portraits of McKinley on the right, Bushnell in the center and Foraker on the left. "McKinley," in large letters, formed of flags, greeted the eye as one entered the rink, while electric lights, Chinese lanterns, bunting and a liberal display of small flags, made a very pretty effect. One hundred vice presidents, representative Republicans, occupied the stage in rear of the speaker, while the representatives of the press were as busy as the proverbial busy bees, eager to catch all the pertinent points, facts and figures, as they dropped from the lips of the man whom the nation delights to honor.

At 8:05 o'clock Governor McKinley reached the rink, where he received an ovation. At 8:20, Chairman W. V. Blake introduced the speaker in a brief and happy speech, and the vast audience was hushed into silence, eager to catch every word which dropped from the lips of the champion of the workmen and mechanics of this great nation—the great commoner, whose motto is and ever has been, "Protection to home and home industries." It is estimated that over 5,000 people were present when the governor commenced his address, portions of which we give below:

Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, fellow citizens—My coming to East Liverpool is to me much like a home coming. I have been journeying here now for more than 20 years, and you have always given me cordial welcome and greeting. Allow me to express my appreciation of the kindness accorded me, not only in the years gone by, but at the present time. On next Tuesday the people of Ohio have a sacred duty to perform, a duty which rests upon each and every citizen voter. Under our form of government, the citizen makes the laws which control the nation. In this we differ from any government in the world. But you will remember that the individual does not form this government; it is the aggregation of individuals, and as this aggregation decides, on Tuesday next, the question as to which of the great parties shall control this state will be settled. An old axiom has it that the life of this nation is in its schools; but to carry this axiom to its fullest realization, we should say that the life of this great republic rests in the combination of our schools and a pure home life. The truest form of good government, in this great land, its corner stone, rests in the home life of the American people, where worth and virtue provide wholesome and exalted principles. There comes from such homes a most helpful and healthful influence, and I am thankful, from the bottom of my heart, for this glorious American home, where the inmates worship at a common altar and serve a common God.

A healthful public sentiment is greatly to be desired, and we are making public sentiment here tonight. It rests with you, my fellow citizens, as to where this public sentiment shall lead, and what the outcome shall be in the present great political contest; great in more than one sense, as vital interests of the nation are at stake.

Governor Campbell is very anxious that state issues shall be the principal topic of this campaign, and Democracy in general is very anxious that state issues shall control. The Democrats in Columbiana county are deeply interested along the same line. But the leaders and the rank and file of the grand old Republican party are awake and not to be caught napping. They understand to a nicety the cause of this great anxiety on the part of their Democratic brethren, and well know that the side show state issue is being worked for the purpose of drawing attention from the actions of the present national administration, as the actions of this same national Democratic administration will not bear the light of honest scrutiny and keen inspection.

Governor Campbell says that the Seventieth and Seventy-first general assemblies were wasteful in the use of public money. What is the truth in the premises? Campbell says that the assemblies mentioned used more money than did the Sixty-ninth, which was Democratic. This statement is correct; but the whole truth is not brought to light. The Sixty-ninth spent more money than the Sixty-eighth. The Sixty-eighth spent more than the Sixty-seventh. The Sixty-seventh spent more than the Sixty-sixth. The whole truth, which Governor Campbell does not tell, is that increased population and increased needs demanded increased expenses, therefore demanded more money. You well know that not long since the penitentiary at Columbus was crowded, and that it became necessary, in the interests of humanity to erect another building, where young criminals, not hardened and unused to crime, might be sent, and where it was possible to reform and make of some of them, at least, good citizens—useful men and women. When I became governor of this grand commonwealth, half a million of dollars had been expended in the erection of this new building. I recommended that the seventieth assembly should make a large appropriation for this building, a much larger appropriation than that of the Sixty-ninth general assembly. I also recommended that the Seventy-first general assembly should make a large appropriation. Large appropriations were also recommended for the benefit of Ohio's insane asylum, in order that the patients might have the very best of medical treatment—this in the name of a common humanity. The appropriations of the Seventieth assembly were greater in this particular than were those of the Sixty-ninth assembly—a Democratic assembly. I ask you, in the name of a common humanity, should we have curtailed these expenditures for the care of the insane. (Loud cries of "no-no.") You must take care of the unfortunate; it is your bounden duty.

Then a nice sum of money was recommended for the benefit of the Ohio asylum for epileptics, and a great and grand work has been accomplished therein. It is a noble charity, and is the only asylum of the kind, under governmental authority, in the world. Hundreds of noble men, through its beneficent care, have been returned to happy homes.

Then we appropriated $85,000 to pay off the Wayne county bonds. There was competition over an agricultural station, and Wayne county bid the sum of $85,000; this was the best offer made, and Wayne county got it. Then Wayne county went to Campbell and asked Democratic authority to issue bonds in the sum of $85,000, and a Democratic legislature granted the plea. A Republican legislature would have done the same thing, of course. The bonds were then sold. The supreme court then decided that said bonds were no good, and we appropriated $85,000 to save the honor of Ohio. Did we do wrong. (Cries of "no-no.")

Then we appropriated $176,000, in order that the state of Ohio might make a creditable exhibit at the great exhibition at Chicago. The government of the United States had invited the world to compete. We had just pride in our grand old Buckeye commonwealth, and we resolved that Ohio should not be in the background. The result was that we won more premiums than any other state in the Union. Then we appropriated $60,000 to erect monuments on the battle field of Chickamauga. Every state in the Union which had soldiers on that terrible field was engaged in erecting monuments to the fallen heroes. Ohio had more soldiers in that battle than any other state save Tennessee. One-fifth of the living, the dead and the dying were from Ohio. I was never so proud of my state as when, some six weeks ago, I stood on that field and counted 55 monuments erected to Ohio soldiers. I stood where Colonel Opeydyke stood on that memorable second day of the conflict, when grand old Pap Thomas came riding up to him and said:

"Colonel Opeydyke you must hold this point; it must be held at all hazards." And the gallant colonel made that memorable reply:

"General Thomas, we will hold this line, or go up to heaven from it."

Thus we account for our appropriations. Not a dollar, not a penny had been expended dishonestly; we accounted for every cent. We were compelled to finally secure half a million of dollars. The reason we wanted it was because we needed it; and we needed it bad. Democratic hard times had caused our need; depreciation of property had caused the receipts from taxes to be much less, and the revenues were insufficient to meet the current expenses. And so we borrowed half a million dollars; and we borrowed it for two and not for 30 years; and we gave but three per cent, and not four and five per cent, like unto our Democratic brethren; and we borrowed it from our own people and not from a foreign syndicate. The Republican party never cared much for such substitutes, either in time of peace or in the time of war. (Ringing applause, and a voice from out the audience, "and it aever will.") I'll take care of the state and her interests until next January, by your permission, and then I'll turn it over to the gallant Asa Bushnell. No general assembly dare interfere with local interests. The people must first ask for it, and when they ask for it, it must be for the benefit of public institutions. We have issued bonds in the last three years that we need not have issued. And why? The general assembly issued them that the money might be used in the improvement of public parks, for the very reason, and for that reason alone, that thousands of idle and suffering men might secure employment and thus earn enough money to keep the wolf from the door. And this issue of bonds was rendered an absolute necessity on account of Democratic inefficiency and criminal blundering. The public institutions of Ohio were never in better condition than they are today. They are honestly and honorably controlled. The great public interests have received more careful attention than they have for years. The most rigid investigation of financial affairs has been courted, and three representative Republicans, associated with three representative Democrats, men of unimpeachable integrity and probity, have declared that affairs could not be in a more satisfactory condition. There are no dark corners in which to hide dishonorable secrets in the executive department of our state government. We now want them to talk about state affairs. But the Democracy does not want you to talk about national affairs, or about the awful condition of affairs down at Washington. We want you to look very closely into the condition of affairs at Columbus, as they will bear the very closest scrutiny, and our Democratic brethren know it full well.

I'm free to say that I do not like the Cleveland administration, and I am not alone in this dislike. It disgusts Republicans and Democrats. I don't like the Gorman-Wilson-sugar-trust bill. There is no American flag in it. It was made in the interest of Canada and Europe, and not in the interest of the United States, and the man who made it made it with that intention. It is free trade in spots and protection in spots. Protection in the south and free trade in the north. South Carolina has rice at 65 cents and Ohio nothing on wool. The farmers of this section know just what they lost—know more about it than I can tell them; they have kept a strict account and will demand a reckoning in due time; they know what they have lost and they know how to get it back.

I don't like the tariff law which repealed the reciprocity feature of 1890, a feature introduced by that grand man and statesman, James G. Blaine, and carried into such splendid consummation by Benjamin Harrison. Reciprocity provided a magnificent trade for the United States in other countries, about half a dozen in number, and hundreds of millions of dollars were thus secured for American products. The blundering Democracy repealed this reciprocity measure. I don't like this Democratic law for the reason that it does not provide sufficient revenue to pay the current expenses of the government. It didn't do it even in the month of September, although the Democracy tried to doctor the returns by refusing to pay anything out and gathering everything possible in. As proof positive of this, on the first day of October the deficit was half a million dollars, and for 12 days the deficit was eleven millions of dollars. What kind of financiering do you call that.

The Republican party took charge of the country in the year 1861, when there was not a dollar in the treasury and a sullied credit against us. The civil war run the national debt up, until it was between two and three billions of dollars. Benjamin Harrison reduced that indebtedness very many millions of dollars, and at the same time vast sums were being spent in industrial enterprises and in building up the government, and the credit of the United States was a number one all over the civilized world.

Then Grover Cleveland came on the scene of action and all was changed. A gold reserve of one hundred million of dollars was in the vaults for the protection of the greenbacks. Cleveland attacked this in 1893, four months after he came in power. This was the first time in the history of the nation that such a thing had occurred. The reserve was reduced to sixty-two millions, and Cleveland made a bond issue of fifty millions and brought the reserve up once more. Again it dropped to seventy-five millions, and brainy Grover made a second issue of fifty millions. Again it was reduced to sixty-two millions, and another bond issue was necessary, making a total of about one hundred and seventy-five millions of bonds issued by this astute financier, and still the reserve only reaches the sum of ninety-four millions. Some three hundred millions in bonds have been issued since the 4th of March 1893, and there are still one hundred and sixty-two millions on the market, on which we are paying four and five per cent interest. Grover is like the man who was determined to be honest and pay his debts, even if he had to borrow money to do it.

What will the Republican party do when it again comes into power? What it always has done—hold up the credit of the country. I don't know just what rate of tariff we will put on; but it will be an American tariff from top to bottom; a tariff which will protect the entire nation, north and south; tariff on everything we produce ourselves; free trade for everything we need and don't produce.

You will remember that the immortal Lincoln was noted for his homely wisdom and appropriate replies to troublesome questions. Some one asked him what the proper length was for a man's legs. Lincoln replied that it depended on surrounding circumstances. But this was not satisfactory to the interrogator, and he pressed the subject, until the president, with the appearance of deep thought controlling him, soberly said, "Well—well; I think a man's legs should be about long enough to reach from his body to the ground." The Republican

Grover is like the man who was determined to be honest and pay his debts, even if he had to borrow money to do it.

What will the Republican party do when it again comes into power? What it always has done—hold up the credit of the country. I don't know just what rate of tariff we will put on; but it will be an American tariff from top to bottom; a tariff which will protect the entire nation, north and south; tariff on everything we produce ourselves; free trade for everything we need and don't produce.

You will remember that the immortal Lincoln was noted for his homely wisdom and appropriate replies to troublesome questions. Some one asked him what the proper length was for a man's legs. Lincoln replied that it depended on surrounding circumstances. But this was not satisfactory to the interrogator, and he pressed the subject, until the president, with the appearance of deep thought controlling him, soberly said, "Well—well; I think a man's legs should be about long enough to reach from his body to the ground." This country is capturing the markets of the world with a vengeance. Last month we exported nearly sixty million pounds less cotton than we shipped abroad in September, 1894.

The course pursued by the authorities at the county seat, in so far as lawbreakers is concerned, is striking terror to the latter class, and cannot but prove beneficial and of great good to the best interests of East Liverpool.

Of course you have a perfect right to go where you please to purchase your goods, even to other cities; but you must not complain when men, ascertaining this fact, refuse to patronize you, and deal with your fellow merchant, who patronizes home and home industries. Selah.

The stern voice of law and order has been heard in this community, and will be strenuously voiced, in unmistakable terms, until ruffianism is forced to hide its horrid and ungainly form. Good citizens are at the head and front of the movement, and they are backed by strong influence and money. Laws are made to be obeyed, and transgressors will find they have a rough road to travel.

"THE WONDER."

Ex-Governor Campbell's special car has been inscribed upon it "The Wonder." It is decidedly appropriate, as every sensible man in the state is "wondering" what Campbell means by his tirade of abuse and his absolute lack of the use of argument or good sense, and many people are "wondering" if Jimmie has any idea that he has the ghost of a chance to win the gubernatorial chair.

GOVERNOR MCKINLEY.

The chief magistrate of this state of Ohio has just cause for pride in the magnificent reception accorded him last night in this city of East Liverpool. Conservative men, good citizens and good judges of numbers, estimate that fully 5,000 people were assembled in the rink last night. It was a representative audience, and anyone looking into the sea of upturned, intelligent faces, must have felt proud of the class of men and women representing this busy industrial pottery center. And it was a well-behaved, appreciative audience, deeply attentive and apparently anxious to catch the truths which were flowing from the lips of the champion of the people, the beloved leader of the Republicans of Ohio, and possibly of the United States. It was a magnificent speech which you made, William McKinley, patriot, soldier, statesman, honest man and, best of all, Christian gentleman. We doff our hats and do you honor. It was a speech devoid of malice or malignity or abuse of his political opponents, but bristling with facts and figures strongly condemnatory of the incapacity and inefficiency of Grover Cleveland and the present national administration. When one listened to the summing up of the glorious work accomplished by the Republican party, he might well exclaim "it is a glorious privilege to be a Republican."

And now there is just one thing to do in order to accomplish a gloriously grand victory on Tuesday next, Nov. 5. Take Governor McKinley's advice to turn out and VOTE. Let nothing keep you from your sacred duty at the polls, and see to it that your neighbor likewise does his full duty. A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull together, and Ohio will set the Republicans of the nation wild with joy.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Waiting and Uncertainty Expected For Some Weeks.

MORE ACTIVITY IN IRON PRODUCTS

American Tinplate Makers Talking of Better Business by Selling at 10 Cents Below Foreign Prices—Wheat and Corn Decline—The Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: The rapid recovery in cotton and the rise in sterling exchange to the point at which the last exports of gold were made, have not increased confidence. There is a little better demand for most manufactured products, retail distribution is fairly encouraging and the closing of many works is less significant at this season than it might be at others. It is a time of waiting, and uncertainty may naturally continue for some weeks.

Cotton speculation turns for the moment on the disposition of holders to keep back their cotton, which may compel higher prices, some say, however large the ultimate supply may be. Receipts are at present very small compared with last year's, and it is stated that banks here have more money loaned on cotton to enable holders to keep it without marketing, than ever before. Exports and takings of spinners are small, and stocks abroad and here so large that consumers may be better able to wait than borrowers from banks.

Wheat has declined 1 1/2 cents and corn 2 1/2 cents, in spite of many adverse reports about winter wheat. The present large shipments from other countries, the small Atlantic exports, in five weeks only 7,302,591 bushels, four included, against 11,724,302 last year, and the western receipts for five weeks, 37,705,458 bushels, against 23,600,973 last year, affect opinions more directly than ideas about next year's yield. Very large estimates of the corn crop have depressed prices, although exports have been in five weeks 12,312,821 bushels, against 4,528,648 last year, a fact which has less weight in the wheat market also. Pork and lard are not much changed, though hog receipts and packing are heavy.

The heavy wheat and corn movement by railroads, the earnings thus far reported for October, 5.3 per cent larger than last year, the third week showing less gain than the others, are 5.4 per cent smaller than in 1892.

The larger demand for manufactured products has held prices of cotton goods and even advanced some prints, in spite of last week's decline in cotton. The bulls are said to be carrying only moderate stocks. More activity is also seen in iron and steel products, though Bessemer and Grey Forge, billets and plates are a little lower, and the average of quotations given today is 2.75 per cent lower than at the highest point of Sept. 17 and 1 per cent lower than in October three years ago; and there is also shading of quotations to secure good business. Contracts for lake ore hang fire because wheat pays $2.25 for the room on which ore would pay $1.10 from the head of the lakes. The nail combination reduced its November output to a third its usual quantity, and the rail output this year has only been about half the quantity required for renewals alone, which shows the enormous increase in use of steel for building and other purposes. Minor metals are a shade weaker, and American tinplate makers are talking a good deal of better business by selling at 10 cents below prices for foreign plate.

Business failures throughout the United States number 299 this week. The total in Canada this week is 48.

Japan Sends Formal Thanks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Accompanied by Secretary Olney, Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister and his secretary of legation have called upon President Cleveland at the White House and presented to him an autograph letter from the Emperor of Japan, expressing in graceful and sincere terms his appreciation of the good offices exercised by the United States government to bring about a restoration of peace between Japan and China and for the protection accorded to Japanese residents in China.

Divorced From the Rebel Wilcox.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Pall Mall correspondent at Rome telegraphs that Baroness Gina Sohero has obtained a divorce from P. W. Wilcox, the Hawaiian revolutionist, upon the ground that the latter imposed upon her prior to the marriage by representing that he was the heir to the throne of Hawaii, whereas he was the son of a carpenter and a Kanaka woman.

Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The comparative statement of the government's receipts and expenditures shows the receipts during October to have been as follows: Customs, $13,773,055; internal revenue, $912,109; total receipts, $27,901,748. The expenditures aggregated $24,503,425, which leaves the deficit for the month, $6,601,677.

No Charges Against Crofton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—No report has been received at the war department of charges preferred against Colonel Crofton at Fort Sheridan of employing enlisted men as servants. Such a practice is explicitly forbidden by statute, but even if the facts are as alleged the matter would fall within the initial jurisdiction of General Merritt, the department commander.

Won't Run the Flyer.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—The Big Four company has abandoned the proposed "flyer" train with which it was announced an attempt would be made to lower the world's long distance single track record next Monday between this city and St. Louis. Owing to the lateness of the season it is deemed advisable not to make the trial, for the present at least.

Prominent Man Kills Himself.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 2.—John S. Crevier, a well-known real estate dealer doing business at 52 North street, Hoboken, has committed suicide by shooting himself.

HOLMES' TRIAL NEARLY ENDED.

Arguments Being Heard and the Jury May Get the Case Tonight.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—To-night the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally, Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage, and all men's enmity, will himself know.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but the decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than that bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin P. Pitezel, had the effect of keeping out a group of gruesome exhibits and a long and tedious argument brought here from Canada, New England and the west, and supported for six days at the commonwealth's expense, also the story of Detective Geyer's travels.

"That is our case," had scarcely fallen from the lips of the commonwealth's prosecutor before counsel for the defense had calmly arisen and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff," and many more as playing the last card left.

They confidently told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case and asked Judge Arnold to tell the jury so and wind up the trial then and there. District Attorney Graham smiled an official smile and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed.

MARTIN PLEADS GUILTY.

He Appears in Court in Time and Is Taken Back to Sandusky.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 2.—Lee Martin, the murderer of Marshal August Schultz, and the cause of the fatal riot at the jail here Sunday morning, has been brought to this city and immediately arraigned before Judge Melhorn.

When asked to plead to the indictment he doggedly remarked that he "guessed" part of it was true, but not all. He will be tried in December.

After the hearing Martin was quietly taken to the outskirts of the city, where he was kept in hiding until the arrival of the northbound train, when he was returned to the jail at Sandusky.

Costly Result of the Shock.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The most costly accident caused by the earthquake here has been reported. The shock broke a gaspipe in the cellar of L. Manheimer, a saloonist. The odor of gas induced Scott Simms to go into the cellar with a light. A terrific explosion followed. The house and billiard room were wrecked. Seven persons in the house were injured, three seriously. The property loss is $5,000.

A Girl Badly Injured.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 2.—Miss Anna Zink, employed in a tinne factory at Mansburg, has received terrible injuries. While operating a machine, an iron bar, eight feet in length and of considerable weight, flew from its fastenings and struck Miss Zink on the right hip. She was rendered unconscious, and may not survive.

Quickly Convicted Clay.

WARREN, O., Nov. 2.—Less than ten minutes after being sworn, a jury here convicted Clayton Clay of a sensational charge, preferred by Anna B. Rex. The defendant protested his innocence, but it was of no avail, as the plaintiff had her child with her. The parties reside in Bristol, near this city.

Hastings Speaks at Toledo.

TOLEDO, Nov. 2.—Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania spoke at the Memorial hall last evening to a large audience. Governor Hastings confined his remarks to protection and reciprocity as outlined by McKinley. He also urged the recognition of Cuba as a belligerent nation. A reception was held after the meeting.

Thought to Be Demented.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 2.—The marshal of Tiffin, brought to this city A. Malloy of Bascom, who, with Will Fetters, was indicted a few days ago for setting fire to buildings in that village. It is said Malloy's mind has become unbalanced.

Will Meet at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—The congress of the foreign missions under American jurisdiction will be held in this city November 6, 7 and 8.

SMALL OJO HAPPENINGS.

J. J. Sullivan resigned as prosecuting attorney of Trumbull county. He is the Republican candidate for state senator. John A. North of Xenia was appointed by the council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Charles Howard, who resigned to be a candidate on the Republican ticket for state senator.

Sarah Bailey, who lives a few miles from Marietta, in coming to town along the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, did not see an approaching passenger train, and was struck in the side by the engine and killed. She was a maiden lady, aged 65 years.

Mayor Ingard, Marshal Myers and Justice Newell of Upper Sandusky, are cleared of the sensational charge of blackmail against them. The grand jury failed to find an indictment. No indictment was either found against Coroner Francisco, charged with assault.

Charles Stangher, gas inspector at Heffner's mills, Circleville, while repairing a pipe in the boiler, threw a piece of lighted paper down, and there was immediately an explosion. It was the first accident from natural gas that has occurred. Stangher's arms and face were badly burned, and he may lose both his eyes.

Cincinnati Livestock Market.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.
HOGS—Market strong at $15.95; receipts, 3,500 head; shipments, 1,700 head.
CATTLE—Market quiet at $2.25; receipts, 400 head; shipments, 200 head.
SHEEP AND LAMBS—Sheep market steady at $1.00; receipts, 1,000 head; shipments, 400 head. Lambs—Market steady at $2.25.

DURRANT MUST HANG.

Jury Finds Him Guilty of Blanche Lamont's Murder.

CROWD CHEERED THE VERDICT.

A Remarkable Scene in the Courtroom When the Jury's Decision Was Read. Durrant Got Pale, Then Resumed His Look of Stolid Indifference.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Theodore Durrant has been convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont. He had been on trial since July 22 last. The jury was out 20 minutes and arrived at the verdict on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy, the punishment was fixed at death.

The scene in the courtroom when the verdict was announced will never be forgotten by those who were present. Mrs. Durrant and the prisoner talked and laughed together as if an acquittal were a foregone conclusion while the jury was out. They were surrounded by half a dozen friends and the conversation was animated, while it became whispered about that the jury had agreed upon a verdict. In an instant a hush fell upon the little circle that had gathered around the prisoner. Durrant's face, always pallid, assumed a ghastly hue, and his mother was speechless. Then the door at the rear of the room opened and the jury filed in and took their seats in the box. Intense excitement followed. The room, although filled to its utmost capacity, was almost as quiet as if it had been vacant. Judge Murphy, who had retired

THEODORE DURRANT.

To his chambers, was summoned and took his place upon the bench. Clerk Morris asked the usual question as to whether the jury had agreed upon a verdict. Foreman Warren Dutton arose and replied in the affirmative.

"We, the jury," said he, "find the defendant, William Henry Theodore Durrant, guilty of murder in the first degree."

As the aged foreman, pale and trembling, read the words that fixed Durrant's fate, a low rumbling noise like the roar of a mob arose from the rear of the courtroom. The next moment men were cheering wildly, while women wept hysterically in excitement. The tumult rapped loudly for order, but the tumult continued for a minute before anything like quiet could be brought out of the disorder.

District Attorney Barnes arose and asked that a day be set upon which the sentence of death should be passed upon the prisoner. Judge Murphy said that sentence would be passed next Friday, upon which day he would also set the day for the trial of Durrant on the charge of murdering Minnie Williams.

As the last words of the verdict were uttered, Durrant made a spasmodic effort to arise to his feet, but before he could do so, his mother, with a half sigh, half moan, threw her arms around his neck and sunk back into her chair. His mother's grief seemed to make Durrant forget his own position, and for the next few minutes he sat with his arms around her neck, trying to soothe her. The long strain of the trial, however, had completely shattered her self-control, and it was some time before Mrs. Durrant could leave the courtroom. Durrant's father was not in the room when the verdict was returned. As soon as the jury retired he went out into the corridors, not believing that the jury would return for several hours, and he first learned that his son had been convicted when a cheer went up from the crowd in the building as the news spread.

Durrant recovered his old-time composure as soon as he left his mother, and prepared to return to the county jail. With his overcoat swung carelessly over his arm, he walked leisurely out of the room, twirling his slight mustache with apparently as little concern as if he were merely a spectator instead of the principal figure in the exciting scene.

Aside from the spectators, Mrs. Noble, Blanche Lamont's aunt, and Maud Lamont, the dead girl's sister, were apparently the happiest persons in the room. When the verdict was announced Maud Lamont arose from her seat, clasped her hands, and then cried of sheer excitement. Mrs. Noble mixed smiles with tears and shook hands with a number of friends who crowded around to congratulate her.

As soon as Durrant left the building the crowd surged out of the room and gathered around the door out of which the prisoner usually came to reach the prison van. Fearing that some violence might be offered the prisoner, he was taken out of another door and driven by a circuitous route to the county jail.

District Attorney Barnes' address is considered one of the most logical and eloquent efforts that has ever made before a California jury. He is given the most credit for the verdict from the fact that the evidence was entirely circumstantial. He talked two days and a half. The case will be appealed to the supreme court, and it is expected nearly a year will elapse before a decision will be obtained. While it is not thought that any error has been committed, the defense has embraced every opportunity to take exceptions to the rulings of the court.

SULTAN'S THRONE TOTTERS.

Muslims and Armenians Reported to Be Combining Against the Government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—A most serious condition of affairs exists here. There seems to be no doubt that the report of the discovery of a plot against the palace on Monday evening last is correct, and three Muslims are said to have been arrested at Stamboul in connection with it. In addition, several houses have been searched and a quantity of arms has been seized.

The fusion of the Muslims and Armenian committees is believed to be imminent, and it is said upon good authority that a joint revolutionary manifesto will shortly be issued. The Turkish government is aware of the serious aspect which affairs are taking, and it is evident that desperate efforts are being made at Constantinople to raise money with which to provide for the calling out of the army reserves.

To Test the Sugar Bounty Act.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Representative Meyer and Colonel Hill, representing the Louisiana sugar producers, have selected two cases which it is thought can be brought for trial before the United States circuit court at New Orleans to test the bounty appropriation act. These are the claims of Andrew J. Gay under the $5,000,000 appropriation and of the Realty company under the $258,000 appropriation.

Confessed to the Kessler Robbery.

ALLEGANY, Mich., Nov. 2.—James Brown, who made the confession which resulted in recovering some of the booty taken in the Kessler (Ind.) train robbery, says that himself, Abe and John Smalley were the principals in that affair. John Smalley is the man who was shot recently by officers who went to arrest him on suspicion of the murder of Officer Powers, near Grand Rapids.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued at the treasury department shows the debt less cash in the treasury to have been at the close of business Thursday $946,481,108, which is an increase for the month of $3,341,472, which is accounted for by the loss of $5,437,364 in the cash in the treasury.

Earthquake in Rome.

ROME, Nov. 2.—There is no truth in the report that serious damage was anywhere done here by the earthquake. Several houses were slightly cracked, a few chimneys fell, and the walls of the barracks of the Swiss guard at the Vatican were slightly cracked. This is about all the damage done.

Japs Whipping the Black Flags.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—The Vladivostok correspondent of The Novoe Vremya telegraphs that the Japanese have captured the inland town of Katochi, island of Formosa. The position of the Black Flags is said to be desperate. The Japanese demand their unconditional surrender.

Bassett Not Dangerously Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The report that Captain Isaac Bassett, the veteran doorkeeper of the senate, was dying is not confirmed. He is suffering from stomach trouble, but his physician states he is not dangerously ill.

SEALED PROPOSALS.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock noon of WEDNESDAY, NOV. 20, 1895, for the improvement of Avondale street, from Bradshaw avenue to Bank street, said street to be improved by setting curb and paving roadway in accordance with the plans and specifications thereon on file in the office of the city engineer.

Each bid must be accompanied by a sufficient guarantee of some disinterested person, that if bid is accepted contract will be entered into and the performance of it properly secured.

Bidders are required to use printed forms, which will be furnished on application. The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

It is a time of waiting, and uncertainty may naturally continue for some weeks.

Cotton speculation turns for the moment on the disposition of holders to keep back their cotton, which may compel higher prices, some say, however large the ultimate supply may be. Receipts are at present very small compared with last year's, and it is stated that banks have more money loaned on cotton to enable holders to keep it without marketing, than ever before. Exports and takings of spinners are small, and stocks abroad and here so large that consumers may be better able to wait than borrowers from banks.

Wheat has declined 1 1/2 cents and corn 2 1/2 cents, in spite of many adverse reports about winter wheat. The present large shipments from other countries, the small Atlantic exports, in five weeks only 7,302,591 bushels, floor included, against 11,734,302 last year, and the western receipts for five weeks, 37,705,458 bushels, against 23,600,973 last year, affect opinions more directly than ideas about next year's yield. Very large estimates of the corn crop have depressed prices, although exports have been in five weeks 12,317,821 bushels, against 4,525,848 last year, a fact which has its weight in the wheat market also. Pork and lard are much changed, though hog receipts and packing are heavy.

The heavy wheat and corn movement by railroads, the earnings thus far reported for October, 5.3 per cent larger than last year, the third week showing less gain than the others, are 5.4 per cent smaller than in 1902.

The larger demand for manufactured products has held prices of cotton goods and even advanced some prints, in spite of last week's decline in cotton. The bulls are said to be carrying only moderate stocks. More activity is also seen in iron and steel products, though Bessemer and Grey Forge, billets and plates are a little lower, and the average of quotations given today is 2 1/2 per cent lower than at the highest point Sept. 17 and 1 per cent lower than in October three years ago; and there is also shading of quotations to secure good business. Contracts for lake ore hang fire because wheat pays $2.25 for the room on which ore would pay $1.10 from the head of the lakes. The rail combination reduced its November output to a third its usual quantity, and the rail output this year has only been about half the quantity required for renewals alone, which shows the enormous increase in use of steel for building and other purposes. Minor metals are a shade weaker, and American tinplate makers are talking a good deal of better business by selling at 10 cents below prices for foreign plate.

Business failures throughout the United States number 299 this week. The total in Canada this week is 48.

Japan Sends Formal Thanks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Accompanied by Secretary Olney, Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister and his secretary of legation have called upon President Cleveland at the White House and presented to him an autograph letter from the Emperor of Japan, expressing in graceful and sincere terms his appreciation of the good offices exercised by the United States government to bring about a restoration of peace between Japan and China and for the protection accorded to Japanese residents in China.

Divorced From the Rebel Wilcox.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Pall Mall correspondent at Rome telegraphs that Baroness Gina Sohero has obtained a divorce from P. W. Wilcox, the Hawaiian revolutionist, upon the grounds that the latter imposed upon her prior to the marriage by representing that he was the heir to the throne of Hawaii, whereas he was the son of a carpenter and a Kanaka woman.

Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The comparative statement of the government's receipts and expenditures shows the receipts during October to have been as follows: Customs, $13,773,055; internal revenue, $13,216,583; miscellaneous, $913,109; total receipts, $27,992,747. The expenditures aggregated $24,503,425, which leaves the deficit for the month, $3,489,322.

No Charges Against Crofton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—No report has been received at the war department of charges preferred against Colonel Crofton at Fort Sheridan of employing enlisted men as servants. Such a practice is explicitly forbidden by statute, but even if the facts are as alleged the matter would fall within the initial jurisdiction of General Merritt, the department commander.

Won't Run the Flyer.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—The Big Four company has abandoned the proposed "flyer" train with which it was announced an attempt would be made to lower the world's long distance single track record next Monday between this city and St. Louis. Owing to the lateness of the season it is deemed advisable not to make the trial, for the present at least.

Prominent Man Kills Himself.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 2.—John S. Crevier, a well-known real estate dealer doing business at 52 North Street, Hoboken, has committed suicide by shooting himself.

HOLMES' TRIAL NEARLY ENDED.

Arguments Being Heard and the Jury May Get the Case Tonight.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—To-night the world will probably know whether or not Holmes will hang. Incidentally, Holmes, who is not now a part of the world, but a mere shrunken figure with a number, a cage, and all men's enmity, will himself know.

When the trial began last Monday everybody anticipated a siege of at least two weeks, but the decision of Judge Arnold that no testimony would be admitted other than that bearing directly on the murder of Benjamin F. Pitoezel, had the effect of keeping out a group of gruesome exhibits and silencing about 30 witnesses brought here from Canada, New England and the rest of the world, and supported for six days at the commonwealth's expense, also the story of Detective Geyer's travels.

"That is our case," had scarcely fallen from the lips of the commonwealth's prosecutor before counsel for the defense had calmly arisen and made what many persons characterized as "a bold bluff," and many more as "playing the last card left."

They confidently told the court that the commonwealth had not made out its case and asked Judge Arnold to tell the jury so and wind up the trial then and there. District Attorney Graham smiled an official smile and said this was too absurd to answer, but Judge Arnold expressed no opinion other than that the case would have to proceed.

Then counsel made the astonishing statement that they wanted time to find out what the defense was going to be, because they had been so busy listening to the evidence against them that they had not had a chance to prepare an answer to it. The court was not very anxious to create another delay, but finally suspended business and gave the attorneys an hour's talk with Holmes. This over, they came back to court and declared that they would call no witnesses, but submit the case on argument alone. This began this morning, and the lawyers say it will end before the day is over.

MARTIN PLEADS GUILTY.

He Appears in Court in Time and Is Taken Back to Sandusky.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 2.—Lee Martin, the murderer of Marshal August Schultz, and the cause of the fatal riot at the jail here Sunday morning, has been brought to this city and immediately arraigned before Judge Melhorn.

When asked to plead to the indictment he doggedly remarked that he "guessed" part of it was true, but not all. He will be tried in December.

After the hearing Martin was quietly taken to the outskirts of the city, where he was kept in hiding until the arrival of the northbound train, when he was returned to the jail at Sandusky.

Costly Result of the Shock.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 2.—The most costly accident caused by the earthquake here has been reported. The shock broke a gaspipe in the cellar of L. Manheimer, a saloonist. The odor of gas induced Scott Simms to go into the cellar with a light. A terrific explosion followed. The house and billiard room were wrecked. Seven persons in the house were injured, three seriously. The property loss is $5,000.

A Girl Badly Injured.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 2.—Miss Anna Zinck, employed in a wine factory at Miamisburg, has received terrible injuries. While operating a machine, an iron bar, eight feet in length and of considerable weight, flew from its fastenings and struck Miss Zinck on the right hip. She was rendered unconscious, and may not survive.

Quickly Convicted Clay.

WARREN, O., Nov. 2.—Less than ten minutes after being sworn, a jury here convicted Clayton Clay of a sensational charge, preferred by Anna B. Rex. The defendant protested his innocence, but it was of no avail, as the plaintiff had her child with her. The parties reside in Bristol, near this city.

Hastings Speaks at Toledo.

TOLEDO, Nov. 2.—Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania spoke at the Memorial hall last evening to a large audience. Governor Hastings confined his remarks to protection and reciprocity as outlined by McKinley. He also urged the recognition of Cuba as a belligerent nation. A reception was held after the meeting.

Thought to Be Demented.

TIFFIN, O., Nov. 2.—The marshal of Piqua has brought to this city A. Malloy of Bascom, who, with Wilfredo, was indicted a few days ago for setting fire to buildings in that village. It is said Malloy's mind has become unbalanced.

Will Meet at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—The congress of the foreign missions under American jurisdiction will be held in this city November 6, 7 and 8.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.

J. J. Sullivan resigned as prosecuting attorney of Trumbull county. He is the Republican candidate for state senator.

John A. North of Xenia was appointed by the council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Charles Howard, who resigned to be candidate on the Republican ticket for state senator.

Sarah Bailey, who lives a few miles from Marietta, in coming to town along the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, did not see an approaching passenger train, and was struck in the side by the engine and killed. She was a maiden lady, aged 65 years.

Mayor Ingham, Marshal Myers and Justice Newell of Upper Sandusky, are cleared of the sensational charge of blackmail against them. The grand jury failed to find an indictment. No indictment was either found against Coroner Francisco, charged with assault.

Charles Stangorah, gas inspector at Heffner's mills, Circleville, while repairing a pipe in the boiler, threw a piece of lighted paper down, and there was immediately an explosion. It was the first accident from natural gas that has occurred. Stangorah's arms and face were badly burned, and he may lose both his eyes.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.
HOGS—Market strong at $15.00; receipts, 3,500 head; shipments, 1,700 head.
CATTLE—Market quiet at $23.50; receipts, 400 head; shipments, 300 head.
SHEEP AND LAMBS—Sheep market steady at $10.00; receipts, 1,000 head; shipments, 400 head. Lambs—Market steady at $2.00.

DURRANT MUST HANG.

Jury Finds Him Guilty of Blanche Lamont's Murder.

CROWD CHEERED THE VERDICT.

A Remarkable Scene in the Courtroom When the Jury's Decision Was Read. Durrant Got Pale, Then Resumed His Look of Stolid Indifference.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Theodore Durrant has been convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont. He had been on trial since July 22 last. The jury was out 20 minutes and arrived at the verdict on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy, the punishment was fixed at death.

The scene in the courtroom when the verdict was announced will never be forgotten by those who were present. Mrs. Durrant and the prisoner talked and laughed together as if an acquittal were a foregone conclusion while the jury was out. They were surrounded by half a dozen friends and the conversation was animated, while it became whispered about that the jury had agreed upon a verdict. In an instant a hush fell upon the little circle that had gathered around the prisoner. Durrant's face, always pallid, assumed a ghastly hue, and his mother was speechless. Then the door at the rear of the room opened and the jury filed in and took their seats in the box. Intense excitement followed. The room, although filled to its utmost capacity, was almost as quiet as if it had been vacant. Judge Murphy, who had retired to his chambers, was summoned and took his place upon the bench. Clerk Morris asked the usual question as to whether the jury had agreed upon a verdict. Foreman Warren Dutton arose and replied in the affirmative.

"We, the jury," said he, "find the defendant, William Henry Theodore Durrant, guilty of murder in the first degree." As the aged foreman, pale and trembling, read the words that fixed Durrant's fate, a low rumbling noise like the roar of a mob arose from the rear of the courtroom. The next moment men were cheering wildly, while women wept hysterically in excitement. The bailiff rapped loudly for order, but the tumult continued for a minute before anything like quiet could be brought out of the disorder. When District Attorney Barnes arose and asked that a day be set upon which the sentence of death should be passed upon the prisoner, Judge Murphy said that sentence would be passed next Friday, upon which day he would also set the day for the trial of Durrant on the charge of murdering Minnie Williams.

As the last words of the verdict were uttered, Durrant made a spasmodic effort to arise to his feet, but before he could do so, his mother, with a half sigh, half moan, threw her arms around his neck and sank back into her chair. His mother's grief seemed to make Durrant forget his own position, and for the next few minutes he sat with his arms around her neck, trying to soothe her. The long strain of the trial, however, had completely shattered her self-control, and it was some time before Mrs. Durrant could leave the courtroom. Durrant's father was not in the room when the verdict was returned. As soon as the jury retired he went out into the corridors, not believing that the jury would return for several hours, and he first learned that his son had been convicted when a cheer went up from the crowd in the building as the news spread.

Durrant recovered his old-time composure as soon as he left his mother, and prepared to return to the county jail. With his overcoat swung carelessly over his arm, he walked leisurely out of the room, twirling his slight mustache with apparently as little concern as if he were merely a spectator instead of the principal figure in the exciting scene.

Aside from the spectators, Mrs. Noble, Blanche Lamont's aunt, and Maud Lamont, the dead girl's sister, were apparently the happiest persons in the room. When the verdict was announced Maud Lamont arose from her seat, clasped her hands, and then cried of sheer excitement. Mrs. Noble mixed smiles with tears and shook hands with a number of friends who crowded around to congratulate her.

As soon as Durrant left the building the crowd surged out of the room and gathered around the door out of which the prisoner usually came to reach the prison van. Fearing that some violence might be offered the prisoner, he was taken out of another door and driven by a circuitous route to the county jail.

District Attorney Barnes' address is considered one of the most logical and eloquent efforts that was ever made before a California jury. He is given the most credit for the verdict from the fact that the evidence was entirely circumstantial. He talked two days and a half. The case will be appealed to the supreme court, and it is expected nearly a year will elapse before a decision will be obtained. While it is not thought that any error has been committed, the defense has embraced every opportunity to take exceptions to the rulings of the court.

SULTAN'S THRONE TOTTERS.

Muslims and Armenians Reported to Be Combining Against the Government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—A most serious condition of affairs exists here. There seems to be no doubt that the report of the discovery of a plot against the palace on Monday evening last is correct, and three Muslims are said to have been arrested at Stamboul in connection with it. In addition, several houses have been searched and a quantity of arms has been seized. The fusion of the Muslims and Armenian committees is believed to be imminent, and it is said upon good authority that a joint revolutionary manifesto will shortly be issued. The Turkish government is aware of the serious aspect which affairs are taking, and it is evident that desperate efforts are being made at Constantinople to raise money with which to provide for the calling out of the army reserves.

To Test the Sugar Bounty Act.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Representative Meyer and Colonel Hill, representing the Louisiana sugar producers, have selected two cases which it is thought can be brought for trial before the United States circuit court at New Orleans to test the bounty appropriation act. These are the claims of Andrew J. Clay under the $5,000,000 appropriation and of the Realty company under the $385,000 appropriation.

Confessed to the Kessler Robbery.

ALLEGANY, Mich., Nov. 2.—James Brown, who made the confession which resulted in recovering some of the booty taken in the Kessler (Ind.) train robbery, says that himself, Abe and John Smalley were the principals in that affair. John Smalley is the man who was shot recently by officers who went to arrest him on suspicion of the murder of Officer Powers, near Grand Rapids.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt issued at the treasury department shows the debt less cash in the treasury to have been at the close of business Thursday $446,481,108, which is an increase for the month of $5,341,472, which is accounted for by the loss of $5,457,364 in the cash in the treasury.

Earthquake in Rome.

ROME, Nov. 2.—There is no truth in the report that serious damage was anywhere done here by the earthquake. Several houses were slightly cracked, a few chimneys fell, and the walls of the barracks of the Swiss guard at the Vatican were slightly cracked. This is about all the damage done.

St. Petersburg the Black Flag.

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—The Vladivostok correspondent of The Novoe Vremya telegraphs that the Japanese have captured the inland town of Katchi, island of Formosa. The position of the Black Flag is said to be desperate. The Japanese demand their unconditional surrender.

Bassett Not Dangerously Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The report that Captain Isaac Bassett, the veteran doorkeeper of the senate, was dying is not confirmed. He is suffering from stomach trouble, but his physician states he is not dangerously ill.

SEALED PROPOSALS.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock noon of WEDNESDAY, NOV. 20, 1895, for the improvement of Avondale street, from Bradshaw avenue to Bank street, said street to be improved by setting curb and paving roadway in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of the city engineer. Each bid must be accompanied by a sufficient guarantee of some disinterested person, that if bid is accepted contract will be entered into and the performance of it properly secured. Bidders are required to use printed forms, which will be furnished on application. The Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of CITY COUNCIL. JAS. N. HANLEY, City Clerk. BAKING POWDER
 Absolutely Pure.
 A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report.
 ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N.Y.
AT THE RINK.

My friends, will be about high enough to meet all necessary business requirements of the nation, and to the very best of care in exalting American labor.

We resumed specie payment in the year 1878—grand old Sherman did it. He received instructions to get ready to resume, and he resumed, and sent out the message that those who desired it could have gold in exchange for their paper money. Seven and one-half millions dropped in on him the first year; the next year but three and a half millions and continued at this ratio until Sherman had cleaned up some forty-six millions of paper promises to pay. Then Grover Cleveland stepped into the arena, and fifty-five millions were called for in the first year, nine millions more than in the fourteen years under Republican rule. The second year, one hundred and fifty-five millions were called for, and in three years the mammoth sum of two hundred and fifty millions were paid out. You ask me how I can account for this. Very easily, my friends, on the common laws controlling business. The only cause was in the change of management of the government. The men who held the money did not trust the new administration. The whole business world awoke to the fact that current expenses were not being met, and each individual wanted his money; exactly like the merchant who goes short in your city, and everybody whom he owes wants his money very badly—all want it at the same time.

When the Republican party was in power, with able financiers at the helm, our money was good all over the United States and good all over the world. No one thought of refusing it.

I'm opposed to the Democratic party for another reason; for allowing shame to come upon our country. The Republican party never hauled down Old Glory. It was bright in its beauty when Harrison turned it over to Cleveland. Six months afterward Cleveland was hauling down the glorious emblem and attempting to put up a dishonored queen. We love that dear old flag. It must and shall be respected upon land and sea. This is our government. We will run it our own way, and we will brook no interference from any other government. We obey no orders issued on a foreign shore. We will have our own government standard. We march under no flag but the glorious old stars and stripes. This government is ours, handed down as a precious inheritance from our grandfathers, fought for by our fathers, and what God has woven in His loom, no man shall rend in twain. Sixty-five millions of men back it up. It represents the hope of the American family, and all the races of mankind can, through the principles it enunciates, be brought up to the knowledge of a better and grander heritage. It is the flag of Washington, of Lincoln, of our volunteer army, which we love and hold sacred as the best gift purchased by the blood of our comrades, and which shall be respected in every land beneath the sun.

My fellow citizens, if you agree with me in the sentences I have so feebly expressed tonight, how can you best embody them in our laws? By the advocacy of the principles of the Republican party, that party which has ever stood up against oppression. You will vote for this party if you agree with me. Your ballots on next Tuesday should speak in thunder tones against Democracy. Show Mr. Campbell that we believe in honest government. Send Asa Bushnell's majority up to such a high notch that our own brave and gallant Foraker will reach the United States Senate. I believe that the good citizens of East Liverpool will never rest satisfied until they see the gallant Foraker where he so richly deserves to be.

It affords me great pleasure to speak to you of Asa Bushnell tonight. He deserves your ballots. He commenced at the very foot of the ladder and has won his way to the very front rank of successful business men. He has paid out, during his business career, over nine millions of dollars to labor, and I want you to remember, men, that it costs something to get the pay rolls ready; costs much more than mere chin music. He will be elected. There is not a shadow of doubt of it. The majority depends entirely on how you get out your Republican vote. You must not get careless or over confident. Every true man will go to the polls and exercise the grand right of the ballot. If you do as well for Bushnell as you did for me—and God knows that East Liverpool and Columbiana county did nobly for me—he will have 100,000 to spare.

Have you noticed, fellow citizens, that the farther you get away from Democracy, the closer you get to prosperity? In 1894 you got a taste of prosperity when the people turned a Democratic national house of representatives out and voted in a Republican one, and the business men of the nation said that they were safe for two years. Don't you want a senator and a chief executive, thus making prosperity sure for many years to come?

Sherman told me, ten days ago, that the ousting of a single Democratic Senator, and the replacing of the marplot by a Republican senator, means a Republican victory, and peace and prosperity and plenty to the nation. Won't you give us Foraker in place of Brice. You can put him there, and you can do nothing better for the salvation of your country. I bid you good night.

During the Governor's speech, and when he was eloquently and earnestly urging the voters present to do their full duty, a ringing voice shouted: "Don't you be afraid, Governor; on next Tuesday we'll electrocute them all." This brought down the house, and the Governor smiled audibly.

The governor addressed an open air meeting yesterday at Dennison and an immense meeting at the Steubenville opera house. Himself and wife left this morning on a special car, en route for Cleveland, where he is booked to speak tonight.

Good health is a precious boon and those who enjoy it should preserve it at whatever cost. Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine is the great health preserving remedy; never failing tonic, strength and tissue producer and builder up of weak and debilitated women. Sold by first class druggists. Be sure you get Libby's. Don't be persuaded by any dealer to take something he will tell you is just as good—his object is to sell you some poor deception upon which his profits are large. Go to some first class dealer or send $1 to us, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, or send to Alvin H. Bulger, leading druggist, East Liverpool, O.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The wood work on the Standard pottery has been commenced, and will be vigorously pushed now.

The city is in the best of health, no epidemic or contagion being prevalent, which reflects highly on the excellent condition of the city.

Frank Oyster entered suit in the court of Squire Manley yesterday against Thomas Wright for forcible detention of property. The case will be heard on Monday morning.

The kilnmen's local union No. 9 meets at Red Men's hall tonight. The regular meeting was last night, but it was postponed until this evening owing to the meeting at the rink.

D. J. Smith and A. H. McCoy addressed a rousing meeting at Washingtonville last night. The miners there display great interest in the campaign and are also solid for Bushnell.

W. H. Brunt's residence carried off the palm in beauty of decoration last night, in honor of Governor McKinley. The display attracted general attention and was the subject of much favorable comment.

Company E had their first rehearsal of the play, "The Midnight Charge," at the armory last night. The boys went through their parts in a manner that would have done credit to those more experienced in the business.

Editor Thomas W. Morris is on the convalescent list, and his many friends will be glad to hear that the attending physician states that he will be able to be about in the early part of next week. His injuries were much more serious than was at first supposed.

Mrs. William Hall returned from the hospital at Cleveland today, after having a successful operation performed in the removal of a diseased eye. The other eye was becoming sympathetically affected, and to save blindness the operation was performed.

Chief Adams received a pleasant surprise today. Frank C. Donald, of Chicago, a friend of the Chief, whom he has not seen for 33 years, called on him today. The meeting was a joyful one and although such a long time has elapsed since they met, they were able to recognize each other.

James Dunkerly called at the fire station yesterday and claimed the horse that had been found by Patrolman McMillan, as his own. He says the animal was taken from the stable on Halloween night by some boys. "Pick" was glad to have the responsibility of keeping the animal taken off his hands, and he cheerfully turned the horse over to its owner.

Judge Young was at the city hall last night and this morning. He issued 23 second and seven first naturalization papers to those who wished to become citizens of this country. The majority of applicants were composed of Englishmen, with Ireland a close second. Germany had a fair showing and Switzerland brought up the rear with a representative of one.

There were 56 licenses granted by the probate judge in October. More good opportunities for creating trouble, cutting affairs, Sunday selling, illegal selling, habitual drunkard making, etc. Of course the law says the business is legal, and just as long as the people say that dram drinking shall be licensed, so long shall the awful business be termed legitimate.

Editorially and locally, oh ye good men and true, we would urge you to be present at the polls on Tuesday next, November 5th, and cast your vote in favor of the Republican party—in favor of honest government; in favor of loyalty and patriotism; in favor of the industrial interests of the great nation; in favor of the workingman and mechanic; in favor of your families; in favor of not only bread and butter for yourself and families, but for a slight sum saved each year, in order to be ready for the rainy day.

A well known citizen, who desires that we shall not make use of his name, was so unfortunate as to lose a pocketbook containing between $60 or $70 yesterday or last night. He did not discover his loss until after his return home from the meeting at the rink. He states that he was jostled violently after the meeting adjourned, by individuals in his front and rear, and it is fearful that he may have been the victim of pickpockets. A reward of $10 will be paid to the finder if the money is returned to the News Review office.

Nothing has been heard from the missing orator. The lecture bureau was fully as astounded and dismayed over his failure to report at East Liverpool, as per advertisement, as were the officials of the Young Men's Christian association of this city. The gallant major may have been the victim of hypnotic influence, or may be floating around on the high seas. Emmet, the Indian chieftain, will be with us, as per program, on Nov. 21. He is a power, and you should hear him. The Ladies auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association have now assumed control of the sale of tickets. They will call upon you and will be pleased to furnish you with choice seats.

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 WALL ST., N. Y.

AT THE RINK.

My friends, will be about high enough to meet all necessary business requirements of the nation, and to the very best of care in exalting American labor.

We resumed specie payment in the year 1879—grand old Sherman did it. He received instructions to get ready to resume, and he resumed, and sent out the message that those who desired it could have gold in exchange for their paper money. Seven and one-half millions dropped on him the first year; the next year but three and a half millions and continued at this ratio until Sherman had cleaned up some forty-six millions of paper promises to pay. Then Grover Cleveland stepped into the arena, and fifty-five millions were called for in the first year, nine millions more than in the fourteen years under Republican rule. The second year, one hundred and fifty-five millions were called for, and in three years the mammoth sum of two hundred and fifty millions were paid out. You ask me how I can account for this. Very easily, my friends, on the common laws controlling business. The only cause was in the change of management of the government. The men who held the money did not trust the new administration. The whole business world awoke to the fact that current expenses were not being met, and each individual wanted his money; exactly like the merchant who goes short in your city, and everybody whom he owes wants his money very badly—all want it at the same time.

When the Republican party was in power, with able financiers at the helm, our money was good all over the United States and good all over the world. No one thought of refusing it.

I'm opposed to the Democratic party for another reason; for allowing shame to come upon our country. The Republican party never hauled down Old Glory. It was bright in its beauty when Harrison turned it over to Cleveland. Six months afterward Cleveland was hauling down the glorious emblem and attempting to put up a dishonored queen. We love that dear old flag. It must and shall be respected upon land and sea. This is our government. We will run it our own way, and we will brook no interference from any other government. We obey no orders issued on a foreign shore. We will have our own government standard. We march under no flag but the glorious old stars and stripes. This government is ours, handed down as a precious inheritance from our grandfathers, fought for by our fathers, and what God has woven in his loom, no man shall rend in twain. Sixty-five millions of men back it up. It represents the hope of the American family, and all the races of mankind can, through the principles it enunciates, be brought up to the knowledge of a better and grander heritage. It is the flag of Washington, of Lincoln, of our volunteer army, which we love and hold sacred as the best gift purchased by the blood of our comrades, and which shall be respected in every land beneath the sun.

My fellow citizens, if you agree with me in the sentences I have so feebly expressed tonight, how can you best embody them in our laws? By the advocacy of the principles of the Republican party, that party which has ever stood up against oppression. You will vote for this party if you agree with me. Your ballots on next Tuesday should speak in thunder tones against Democracy. Show Mr. Campbell that we believe in honest government. Send Asa Bushnell's majority up to such a high notch that our own brave and gallant Foraker will reach the United States Senate. I believe that the good citizens of East Liverpool will never rest satisfied until they see the gallant Foraker where he so richly deserves to be.

It affords me great pleasure to speak to you of Asa Bushnell tonight. He deserves your ballots. He commenced at the very foot of the ladder and has won his way to the very front rank of successful business men. He has paid out, during his business career, over nine millions of dollars to labor, and I want you to remember, men, that it costs something to get the pay rolls ready; costs much more than mere chin music. He will be elected. There is not a shadow of doubt of it. The majority depends entirely on how you get out your Republican vote. You must not get careless or over confident. Every true man will go to the polls and exercise the grand right of the ballot. If you do as well for Bushnell as you did for me—and God knows that East Liverpool and Columbiana county did nobly for me—he will have 100,000 to spare.

Have you noticed, fellow citizens, that the farther you get away from Democracy, the closer you get to prosperity? In 1894 you got a taste of prosperity when the people turned a Democratic national house of representatives out and voted in a Republican one, and the business men of the nation said that they were safe for two years. Don't you want a senator and a chief executive, thus making prosperity sure for many years to come?

Sherman told me, ten days ago, that the ousting of a single Democratic Senator, and the replacing of the marplot by a Republican senator, means a Republican victory, and peace and prosperity and plenty to the nation. Won't you give us Foraker in place of Brice. You can put him there, and you can do nothing better for the salvation of your country. I bid you good night.

During the Governor's speech, and when he was eloquently and earnestly urging the voters present to do their full duty, a ringing voice shouted: "Don't you be afraid, Governor; on next Tuesday we'll elect you out of here." This brought down the house, and the Governor smiled audibly.

The governor addressed an open air meeting yesterday at Dennison and an immense meeting at the Steubenville opera house. Himself and wife left this morning on a special car, en route for Cleveland, where he is booked to speak tonight.

Good health is a precious boon and those who enjoy it should preserve it at whatever cost. Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine is the great health preserving remedy, never failing tonic, strength and tissue producer and builder up of weak and debilitated women. Sold by first class druggists. Be sure you get Libby's. Don't be persuaded by any dealer to take something he will tell you is just as good—his object is to sell you some poor concoction upon which his profits are large. Go to some first class dealer or send $1 to us, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, or send to Alvin H. Bulger, leading druggist, East Liverpool, O.

Salvation Army.

Don't forget the salvation temperance meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Salvation Army hall. Brigadier Cozens and Staff Captain Parker will speak. Admission, by ticket, 10 cents. Same ticket admits bearer to Sunday night meeting.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25 cents per box. Sold by T. L. Potts, druggist, 4

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The wood work on the Standard pottery has been commenced, and will be vigorously pushed now.

The city is in the best of health, no epidemic or contagion being prevalent, which reflects highly on the excellent condition of the city.

Frank Oyster entered suit in the court of Squire Manley yesterday against Thomas Wright for forcible detention of property. The case will be heard on Monday morning.

The kilnmen's local union No. 9 meets at Red Men's hall tonight. The regular meeting was last night, but it was postponed until this evening owing to the meeting at the rink.

D. J. Smith and A. H. McCoy addressed a rousing meeting at Washingtonville last night. The miners there display great interest in the campaign and are also solid for Bushnell.

W. H. Brunt's residence carried off the palm in beauty of decoration last night, in honor of Governor McKinley. The display attracted general attention and was the subject of much favorable comment.

Company E had their first rehearsal of the play, "The Midnight Charge," at the armory last night. The boys went through their parts in a manner that would have done credit to those more experienced in the business.

Editor Thomas W. Morris is on the convalescent list, and his many friends will be glad to hear that the attending physician states that he will be able to be about in the early part of next week. His injuries were much more serious than was at first supposed.

Mrs. William Hall returned from the hospital at Cleveland today, after having a successful operation performed in the removal of a diseased eye. The other eye was becoming sympathetically affected, and to save blindness the operation was performed.

Chief Adams received a pleasant surprise today. Frank C. Donald, of Chicago, a friend of the Chief, whom he has not seen for 33 years, called on him today. The meeting was a joyful one and although such a long time has elapsed since they met, they were able to recognize each other.

He says the animal was taken from the stable on Halloween night by some boys. "Pick" was glad to have the responsibility of keeping the animal taken off his hands, and he cheerfully turned the horse over to its owner.

Judge Young was at the city hall last night and this morning. He issued 23 second and seven first naturalization papers to those who wished to become citizens of this country. The majority of applicants were composed of Englishmen, with Ireland a close second. Germany had a fair showing and Switzerland brought up the rear with a representative of one.

FASTBINDER IS GUILTY

Of Cutting With the Intent to Kill.

THE VERDICT WAS EXPECTED

The Jury in the Case Did Not Take Very Much Time to Deliberate, As It Was Out But Half An Hour—The Present Court a Terror to Evil Doers—Matters Of Lighter Interest.

The trial of Grant Fastbinder was resumed this morning, and the witnesses on behalf of the defense were called.

George Rhodes:—I am acquainted with Meador and Fastbinder, but did not drink with him on the Sunday in question.

Charles Gill:—I am chief of police of East Liverpool; have known Grant Fastbinder for three or four years; his general reputation for peace is good, so far as I know. I arrested him once for crime.

A. V. Gilbert:—Am Mayor of the city of East Liverpool; have known Fastbinder for four or five years; character for peace and good order all right.

Frank Allen:—I am a barber. Think I have the means of knowing that Fastbinder has been a good citizen.

Ed Crosser:—Knew Fastbinder in Lisbon before I went to East Liverpool; this was nine or ten years ago. Five or six years ago he came to East Liverpool; often saw him to speak to him; never knew anything bad about him.

John McNutt:—I am overseer at the pottery, and Fastbinder has been in our employ for five or six years; so far as I know, his reputation and character is good.

John Gillespie:—Have known Fastbinder for five or six years; he worked in the pottery with me; don't know much about his general character.

Grant Fastbinder:—I am 28 years old; have been in East Liverpool in the pottery business for the past nine or ten years; working for Knowles, Taylor & Knowles. Have known Almo Meador for several years and for about a year we have roomed together at the Anderson House; we never fought before the 22d of September. I never said, in Thompson's saloon, that I would get even with Meador for tearing my collar. When I got to the Virginia shore, I threw the razor in the weeds and waited until Gill came. I had often borrowed Stewart's knife, and I borrowed it on Saturday, but not to kill Meador with. I had been drinking on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, mostly at Anderson's, when Meador was at the bar. On Sunday morning, Anderson said we could drink if we would get the keys from Rit Meador; we got them, got our drinks and paid for them. About noon we went up town. Meador was with us, and we got a drink. I went home between three and four o'clock, and went up to our room and found the door shut. I opened it and saw Meador sitting on a chair near the window; he swore at me and said that he didn't want me to come in the room, to keep him from sleeping. I told him that I had come to change my clothes; that I would leave and not bother him. He then said that I'd better go and stay; he then got up and hit me with a chair and knocked me down; thus far I had no razor. Then I got up and raised the lid of my trunk and got my razor; he then knocked me down again; he lost his balance and then clenched me and then I cut him; he got me down and grabbed me by the throat and arm; my weight is about 150 pounds, and his near 200 pounds. I didn't know what was going to become of him or me. I had fears that I would be beat up badly if I didn't have something to defend myself with; that is what made me get my razor to defend myself with.

Cross-examination:—I did not cross the river with Policeman Gill, as the East Liverpool bank was crowded with people and I did not know what they would do. The testimony for the defense closed and Prosecutor Speaker opened for the State. At 7 o'clock last night the jury retired and in half an hour returned with their verdict, finding the accused guilty on the first count in the indictment, cutting with intent to kill.

Frank S. Miller, a young farmer residing near Bayard, was this morning adjudged to be insane, and an application was made to have him admitted to the asylum at Cleveland. He was taken to the county infirmary yesterday.

The following names were drawn this morning from the wheel, to fill out the panel of the petit jury, which has become incomplete. Curtis King, Frankfort township; George Ingram, Wellsville; Samuel Meador, East Liverpool; Samuel Carnahan, Washington township; James Cope, Middletown.

W. S. Humphreys and Ada E. Ball have permission to marry; W. H. Hovernail and Maggie M. Ormsby.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

There Was a Very Short Session Last Night.

The board of health met in regular session last night. Business went through with a rush. The roll call showed all members present except George and the clerk. Purinton acted as secretary in his stead. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The bills of Health Officer for $26.15 and Sanitary Police Ogden King for $54 were received and referred to the finance committee. The report of the health officer for the month was read and showed that there had been 23 births, 12 of them male and 11 female, one colored; three permits were issued, and five horses disposed of. Sanitary Police King reported that notices were issued as follows: To construct privy vaults, one; removal of night soil, 19; removal of garbage and ashes, 318, drains for waste water 32, sink trap 6, sewer, waste water and closets 8, well 1, manure boxes 10, sewers opened by night soiler 1, houses fumigated 2, calls answered by card and letter 10; 6 dogs, 10 cats and 5 chickens disposed of and the city thoroughly canvassed. Both reports were approved and filed. A communication from James McCormick was received asking that no action be taken in regard to his failure to make proper sewer connections; he intended to be at their meeting last night but was unavoidably absent because of the death of a friend.

The communication was received and turned over to the health officer. Bills due were referred to council for payment. The question of a dumping ground for night soil was next discussed, it was finally decided to leave the matter in charge of the night soiler, the board having nothing to do with the paying for a place used as a dumping ground.

Mr. Sebring, who was ordered to make sewer connections, was present and said that he intended to make those connections, but had not had the time to do the work yet. He asked to be given a reasonable length of time to do it in. John Deakin also objected to sewerage at the present time. The matter was placed in the hands of the sanitary police and health officer to be attended to as soon as possible.

Frank Hayes and John Duncan refused to clean their vaults and the nightsoiler was ordered to clean the same and charge it up against the property.

John J. Purinton arose and stated that owing to the new duties that soon would evolve upon him, it was necessary for him to hand in his resignation. He regretted the necessity of leaving their company now, and was only actuated by the best motives in so doing, and he hoped that his successor would meet with the same hearty co-operation that he had enjoyed while with them. The board expressed their regret over losing Mr. Purinton, and his resignation was received and referred to council to act upon it. The meeting then adjourned.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully 98 per cent. are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty and liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hyposphosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, coughing and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Just Verdict.

The verdict of the jury in the Densmore case meets with warm approval at the hands of all good and law abiding citizens.

OH THE TUMBLE.

The Girls Were Wicked Enough to Laugh.

A certain well known and popular high school youth, a general favorite among the ladies, met a combination of triplets of the latter sex on one of our prominent thoroughfares yesterday and became engaged in a conversation of more than ordinary interest. As he was about bidding them a fond adieu, after the solution of the knotty problem which the quartette had been discussing, he lingered, because he loved to linger under the circumstances, and moved away from the enchanted spot, walking backward, in order that he might enjoy a last, fond glance.

A wicked youth, without the fear of the high school scholar in his makeup, had placed a small box on the pavement, and when the popular young man arrived in the immediate vicinity of the aforesaid box, all unsuspecting of the awful trap and base plot against his physical well being, he inadvertently, involuntarily and unpremeditatedly turned a back handed somersault and spread his hands some feet and frame all over the pavement, in a most undignified and unbecoming posture. Did those lovely maidens enact the part of the good Samaritan? Did they gather around and about their fallen and distressed companion, weeping wopes of grief and shedding shods of tears, while they spoke sweet, balmy, and grief assuaging words of sympathy? Nay, verily, they did nothing of that kind; but on the contrary, they smiled smiles of genuine enjoyment, and they laughed great, mammoth laughs, teeming with health to themselves, but not to the fallen youth, until he gnashed upon himself in wrath and fled in dire dismay, until the distance concealed his manly form from view, and then he hid himself to the only live and enterprising daily in all this section of Uncle Samuel's fair domain and inserted the following "want" in the NEWS REVIEW:

Wanted—Yea verily, and I want him awfully; the base, blackhearted villain who set that box job up on me. I want him—oh how I want him. I want to greet him. I want to feel him. I want to kill him—yea, verily, I want to kill him numerous times."

PERSONAL MENTION.

—William Feist, of Wheeling, is in town calling on friends.

—Mrs. Jennie Bryan, of East End, returned home yesterday after a lengthy visit with her brother at O'Neil, Neb.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Joe Herbert On Crutches.

Joseph T. Herbert was badly hurt last night by making a misstep from a high point in the pavement. He hurt his ankle badly and is compelled to use a crutch in order to "locomote" properly.

Ed Crosser:—Knew Fastbinder in Lisbon before I went to East Liverpool; this was nine or ten years ago. Five or six years ago he came to East Liverpool; often saw him to speak to him; never knew anything bad about him.

John McNutt:—I am overseer at the pottery, and Fastbinder has been in our employ for five or six years; so far as I know, his reputation and character is good.

John Gillespie:—Have known Fastbinder for five or six years; he worked in the pottery with me; don't know much about his general character.

Grant Fastbinder:—I am 28 years old; have been in East Liverpool in the pottery business for the past nine or ten years; working for Knowles, Taylor & Knowles. Have known Almo Meador for several years and for about a year we have roomed together at the Anderson House; we never fought before the 22d of September. I never said, in Thompson's saloon, that I would get even with Meador for tearing my collar. When I got to the Virginia shore, I threw the razor in the weeds and waited until Gill came. I had often borrowed Stewart's knife, and I borrowed it on Saturday, but not to kill Meador with. I had been drinking on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, mostly at Anderson's, when Meador was at the bar. On Sunday morning, Anderson said we could drink if we would get the keys from Almo Meador; we got them, got our drinks and paid for them. About noon we went up town. Meador was with us, and we got a drink. I went home between three and four o'clock, and went up to our room and found the door shut. I opened it and saw Meador sitting on a chair near the window; he swore at me and said that he didn't want me to come in the room, to keep him from sleeping. I told him that I had come to change my clothes; that I would leave and not bother him. He then said that I'd better go and stay; he then got up and hit me with a chair and knocked me down; thus far I had no razor. Then I got up and raised the lid of my trunk and got my razor; he then knocked me down again; he lost his balance and then clenching me and then I cut him; he got me down and grabbed me by the throat and arm; my weight is about 150 pounds, and his near 200 pounds. I didn't know what was going to become of him or me. I had fears that I would be beat up badly if I didn't have something to defend myself with; that is what made me get my razor to defend myself with.

Cross-examination:—I did not cross the river with Policeman Gill, as the East Liverpool bank was crowded with people and I did not know what they would do.

The testimony for the defense closed and Prosecutor-Speaker opened for the State. At 7 o'clock last night the jury retired and in half an hour returned with their verdict, finding the accused guilty on the first count in the indictment, cutting with intent to kill.

Frank S. Miller, a young farmer residing near Bayard, was this morning adjudged to be insane, and an application was made to have him admitted to the asylum at Cleveland. He was taken to the county infirmary yesterday.

The following names were drawn this morning from the wheel, to fill out the panel of the petit jury, which has become incomplete. Curtis King, Frankfort township; George Ingram, Wellsville; Samuel Meador, East Liverpool; Samuel Carnahan, Washington township; James Cope, Middletown.

W. S. Humphreys and Ada E. Ball have permission to marry; W. H. Hovernal and Maggie M. Ormsby.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

There Was a Very Short Session Last Night.

The board of health met in regular session last night. Business went through with a rush. The roll call showed all members present except George and the clerk. Parinton acted as secretary in his stead. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The bills of Health Officer for $26.15 and Sanitary Police Ogdin King for $54 were received and referred to the finance committee. The report of the health officer for the month was read and showed that there had been 23 births, 12 of them male and 11 female, one colored; three permits were issued, and five horses disposed of. Sanitary Police King reported that notices were issued as follows: To construct privy vaults, one; removal of night soil, 19; removal of garbage and ashes, 318, drains for waste water 32, sink trap 6, sewer, waste water and closets 8, well 1, manure boxes 10, sewers opened by night soiler 1, houses fumigated 2, calls answered by card and letter 10; 6 dogs, 10 cats and 5 chickens disposed of and the city thoroughly canvassed. Both reports were approved and filed. A communication from James McCormick was received asking that no action be taken in regard to his failure to make proper sewer connections; he intended to be at their meeting last night but was unavoidably absent because of the death of a friend.

The communication was received and turned over to the health officer. Bills due were referred to council for payment. The question of a dumping ground for night soil was next discussed. It was finally decided to leave the matter in charge of the night soiler, the board having nothing to do with the paying for a place used as a dumping ground.

Mr. Sebring, who was ordered to make sewer connections, was present and said that he intended to make those connections, but had not had the time to do the work yet. He asked to be given a reasonable length of time to do it in. John Deakin also objected to sewerage at the present time. The matter was placed in the hands of the sanitary police and health officer to be attended to as soon as possible.

Frank Hayes and John Duncan refused to clean their vaults and the nightsoiler was ordered to clean the same and charge it up against the property. John J. Purinton arose and stated that owing to the new duties that soon would evolve upon him, it was necessary for him to hand in his resignation. He regretted the necessity of leaving their company now, and was only actuated by the best motives in so doing, and he hoped that his successor would meet with the same hearty co-operation that he had enjoyed while with them. The board expressed their regret over losing Mr. Purinton, and his resignation was received and referred to council to act upon it. The meeting then adjourned.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

TAKE STEPS

In time, if you are a sufferer from that scourge of humanity known as consumption, and you can be cured. There is the evidence of hundreds of living witnesses to the fact that, in all its early stages, consumption is a curable disease. Not every case, but a large percentage of cases, and we believe, fully of you can and will be cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses in curative power over this malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphates had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of these cured cases of consumption, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You can then write to those who have been cured and profit by their experience.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a la grippe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

A Just Verdict.

The verdict of the jury in the Denmore case meets with warm approval at the hands of all good and law abiding citizens.

OH THE TUMBLE.

The Girls Were Wicked Enough to Laugh.

A certain well known and popular high school youth, a general favorite among the ladies, met a combination of triplets of the latter sex on one of our prominent thoroughfares yesterday and became engaged in a conversation of more than ordinary interest. As he was about bidding them a fond adieu, after the solution of the knotty problem which the quartette had been discussing, he lingered, because he loved to linger under the circumstances, and moved away from the enchanted spot, walking backward, in order that he might enjoy a last, fond glance.

A wicked youth, without the fear of the high school scholar in his make-up, had placed a small box on the pavement, and when the popular young man arrived in the immediate vicinity of the aforesaid box, all unsuspecting of the awful trap and base plot against his physical well being, he inadvertently, involuntarily and unpreparedly turned a back handed somersault and spread his handsome form and frame all over the pavement, in a most undignified and unbecoming posture. Did those lovely maidens enact the part of the good Samaritan? Did they gather around and about their fallen and distressed companion, weeping wopes of grief and shedding shods of tears, while they spoke sweet, balm, and grief assuaging words of sympathy? Nay, verily, they did nothing of that kind; but on the contrary, they smiled smiles of genuine enjoyment, and they laughed great, mammoth laughs, teeming with health to themselves, but not to the fallen youth, until he gnashed upon himself in wrath and fled in dire dismay, until the distance concealed his manly form from view, and then he hid himself to the only live and enterprising daily in all this section of Uncle Samuel's fair domain and inserted the following "want" in the NEWS REVIEW:

Wanted: Yea verily, and I want him awfully; the base, blackhearted villain who set that box job up on me. I want him—oh how I want him. I want to greet him. I want to feel him. I want to kill him—yea, verily, I want to kill him numerous times."

PERSONAL MENTION.

—William Feist, of Wheeling, is in town calling on friends.

—Mrs. Jennie Bryan, of East End, returned home yesterday after a lengthy visit with her brother at O'Neill, Neb.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Joe Herbert On Crutches.

Joseph T. Herbert was badly hurt last night by making a misstep from a high point in the pavement. He hurt his ankle badly and is compelled to use a crutch in order to "locomote" properly.
